Bozarth's Mikado Claims Promising Properties

(From Tuesday's Daily)

A paystreak averaging in places more than three feet, the top part of which carries 160 per cent of silver, 5 per cent copper, and 10 per cent lead, besides a trace of zinc, is a property that will yet show high-paying Yavapai county's richest mine. This mine of wonderful possibilities is located between Copper Creek and the Eureka district, thirty miles northwest of Hill, on the S. F. & P. P. It is in the immediate neighborhood of the properties of the Copper Creek Development Company, proven by a series of tunnels and shafts in which rich bodies of copper bearing ore were exposed.

The district is one of the oldest in the county but its development is retarded by its isolation from railroad transportation. Only a few years ago the attention of Joseph L. Giroux, newly connected with Senator Bozarth and had of the Giroux Mining Company of Nevada, was called to the promising outcrop of the district. After an examination he organized the Copper Creek Development Company and acquired big claims covering a tract almost a mile long and four miles wide. Mines costing thousands of dollars have been installed and tunnels aggregating thousands of feet have been dug through the ledges and deposits, opening a large tonnage of ore.

Bozarth acquired his Mikado group of claims more than ten years ago. It has been developing them from time to time, and now has a tunnel 312 feet on one of the principal veins in which can be seen the show above described. The tunnel taps a ledge at a depth of 100 feet at the top and the ore is gradually changing from being more solid since water has been reached a short time ago. It brought a large number of samples of the ore, known among miners as steel galena, which carries values as high as silver, lead, copper and gold. Samples of it gave returns of $100 per ton.

Its locations cover water rights with never failing water supply, the flow big enough to furnish a reduction plant of large capacity. The top can be reached by wagon from the hill station.

VARIOUS TICKETS OF ARIZONA'S COUNTIES

Throughout the territory the various counties have nominated their tickets and the campaign war is being waged merrily. The ticket contains the names of many well known Arizona politicians.

FANCY VALUE ORE SHOWS IN BIG BUG MINE

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Big Bug district will have another gold and silver producing mine in the next year according to the reports which reached here the last few days from the camp of the New England Arizona Mining Company. In the main shaft, now 420 feet deep, the ore is showing richer and larger with every foot of depth. From the 325 foot mark in the shaft down to the bottom strings of ore, carrying high grade values in gold and silver, intersect the cross ledge in which the shaft is being sunk. These strings show a thickness of from two to eight inches all the way across that part of the ledge being displaced by the sinking of the shaft.

J. H. Farrell, general manager of the company, when seen here yesterday by a Journal-Miner representative, admitted with some reluctance that the reports of the rich ore in the shaft were true. Farrell is known all over northern Arizona as one of its most conservative and practical mine managers.

"You know," he said, "that I have always confined my mining to practical work and allowed the other fellow to do the talking. Inasmuch, however, as the report of the property looking well has been given out, I am free to admit that the bottom of the shaft is looking better with every foot of depth gained. The ledge is intersected with rich strings of ore, carrying high grade values in gold and silver. I do not care to make public the result of the assays recently made further than to say that the ore is rich enough to encourage any sensible miner to follow it down several hundred feet further. The shaft is sunk near the intersection of a quartzite dyke and a crossledge. It follows the cross ledge at an angle of 65 degrees. The dyke runs northerly and southerly and the crossledge easterly and westerly."

In following the hanging wall of the crossledge with the shaft neither the crossledge or the dyke have been explored to any extent."

Farrell concluded by stating that he was well pleased with the prospect of opening a great mine there, adding that he was well satisfied with the progress being made in the sinking of the shaft.

The shaft is one of the most substantially timbered in the county. The square sets are made from 8x8 timbers, lagged on both sides and ends. The equipment includes a modern hoisting and air-compressor plant.

The group, comprising nine claims, covers a series of ledges in the same mineral belt as the Jessie, Lelan and Dividend mines, all proven properties. It is located three and a half miles north of the McCabe-Gladstone mine, the largest gold producer in the county in 1907.

EXPORTS OF COPPER SHOW SLIGHT SLUMP

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—There has been a slight falling off in the export demands for copper and prices are ranging between 13½ and 14 cents a pound. It is believed by the principal interests that developments will occur that will cause a decided change for the better in the copper market. The most favorable indication is in the direction of great domestic consumption. During the first nine months of this year the foreign shipments amounted to over 508,468,000 pounds, showing an increase of about 40 per cent over the export figures for the same period last year. The fact is, the export demand for copper the past year has amounted to 81 per cent of the total annual production of the country, figured on a maximum basis of 900,000 pounds.

As soon as the different important enterprises of the country have arrived at a normal basis this demand will be greatly increased. The United Verde company is now producing at the rate of 38,000,000 pounds annually, which is about 70 per cent of normal. This company shows a gain of about 10 per cent over the figures of two months ago. This property, as well as the other important copper producers, is free from labor troubles, which is usually the case during the time when copper prices are down. Just prior to the drop in copper, which occurred in the spring of 1907, murmurings were heard in the principal copper districts. In Butte the Western Federation had a sliding scale agreement which was giving the miners a maximum wage at the time. When metallic copper dropped in price the miners became restive and, perhaps, only the absolute closing of a large number of the copper properties saved a serious strike.

At the same time Butte, Ariz., (meaning principally the Calumet & Arizona Copper Company), had serious trouble with the union that the Federation was thrown out entirely and non-union laborers were imported from all classes of camps throughout the country. With every prospect that metallic copper will maintain a normal level for several years to come (meaning, perhaps, not greater than 18 cents a pound), it is unlikely that there will ever be any labor disturbance in any of the districts.

Reports from Boston state that the Atlantic Mining Company is scheduled again to enter the list of copper producers. The company has been doing a great deal of dead work, and as soon as it has sufficient stoping ground to keep it operating on a commercial basis it will resume operations in a productive way. The Boston Consolidated is shipping about 1,600 tons of porphyry ore daily averaging 1.7 per cent copper and 350 tons of sulphides averaging 2 per cent. The present cost to the company is about 10 cents a pound. The company is said to have very large ore reserves and will likely soon be showing a better earning rate.

The First National Copper Company expects to soon be keeping its new smelting plant busy with all the ores that can be handled. The mine is in splendid shape, and the ore is said to run about 3 per cent copper. The smelter, to begin with, will treat not in excess of 500 tons of ore daily, but this will likely be increased later on. The prospect for an advance in the price of metallic copper will depend very largely on the orders that will be placed in November. Irrespective of what falling off there has been in the foreign purchases of the red metal, we must take into consideration that the domestic demand is steadily growing. The prediction of 15-cent copper before the end of 1908 is well founded on every indication and fact pertaining to the situation.

Joe Roberts has returned from the Kirkland ranges with a consignment of fat steers for his O. K. meat market.
